Friday 17th November

Hello Families,

Pupils have had a fantastic second week, definitely showcasing their 'Ready to Learn' attitudes! We have been extremely impressed at the levels of engagement in classrooms. We were excited to show perspective parents around our school on Wednesday morning, who were equally impressed with our wonderful young people. Pupils have fully embraced anti-bullying week and alongside staff had some great sock combinations.

Nexus Trust Pupil Parliament Meeting

Logan and Dylan represented us at the Trust Pupil Parliament meeting on Thursday along with representatives from schools across the Trust. They were excited to share their feedback on what Pupil Parliament have been doing and how they have recently been involved in helping us to appoint new staff members. Also, they gave feedback on whether the Trust should hold another Trust Olympics this year and feedback from our pupils who were involved last year were very excited and happy for a similar event to happen again next year.

World War 2 Workshops

Last Wednesday, Year 7 & 8 classes had a visit from The Real-Life History Company as part of their Theme work on World War 2. Children were transported back in time to 1940. Pupils learnt songs, visited a bomb shelter during an air raid, went shopping with a ration book & visited the movies. They then had workshops where they experienced life as an evacuee, they were able to try on uniforms from the war and handle real life relics from the 1940's including a chamber pot and carbolic soap. It was an amazing morning and the company said that our pupils were a pleasure to be involved with.

New Website

We are excited to announce that we have launched a brand-new website this week which we hope will be much more user friendly for parents and carers to access for further information about our school.
